paralysis in New York city was re-ported yesterday for the twenty-four hour reckoning of the Department of Health. The number is a duplicate of the second highest day's record regis-tered during the epidemic, or 12 in ex-cess of Tuesday. There were reported deaths, 3 less than on the preceding sy. Brooklyn had only 9 deaths, as gainst 23 for the previous twenty-four against 23 for the previous twenty-four hours, although its new cases were recorded as 83, an increase of 8. Manhattan's deaths from the disease, however, numbered 12, an increase of 3 over the day before, while there were 42 new cases, the same as on Tuesday. Forty new cases, not including those in this city, were reported to the State Department of Health at Albany in the twenty-four hours ended at 5 P. M. This is the greatest number for any one day. Only two deaths, however, were reported. Huntington and Lakeview each had one. The total number of cases in the State outside of New York is 297 to date. The total cases reported in this city is 3,260. rted in this city is 3,260.

Reports 26-Week Rate Is Lower. Notwithstanding the large number of deaths from the disease, Dr. Haven Emer. the Health Commissioner, said yesson, the reach Commissioner, said yes-terday afternoon the official death rate for the five boroughs for all ages during the twenty-six weeks of 1916 ending last rday was 14.59, as compared with for the corresponding period in Home, Despite Her Protest.

John E. Parsons, who died January 16, 1915, left an estate of the net value of $2,269,847, according to the report of Joseph W. Spencer, appraiser, filed yes-terday under the inheritance tax law. In his will he wrote:

My wife, Florence V. C. Parsons has an ample income of her own and has insisted that I shall make no testamentary provision for her. None the less, I ask her to receive, and I give and bequeath to her for her life, $200,000, to be used by her for the purchase of a house, any surplus, and the whole if not so used, to be invested and the income and the use of the house, if purchased, to be hers for life and subject as above to form a part of my residuary estate. This is in lieu of dower to which she is en-titled in my real estate.

Son Gets Harrison Estate.

Herbert Parsons, son, was given the country estate at Harrison, N. Y., known as Loundsberry, appraised at $65,100. Besides minor bequests he also is willed a tenth interest in the residuary estate of $1,906,800 and a life estate in forests.

Mrs. Edith P. Morgan, a daughter, received a life estate in $381,361 and a surviving life estate in $40,000, besides a small amount of personalty. Mrs. Constance P. Hare was given practically the same share, as are also Miss Gertrude Parsons and Miss Mary Parsons. Each of the children is g power of appointment over the life tates set aside for them.

Frances R. Kavanagh, secretary, was bequeathed $5,000; George H. Mil-ton, butler, $2,000, and each household employee who had been in service more than ten years was given $1,000. Those who had been in his service five years were given $500. Under this provision

Mrs. Robinson was Miss Salite Abell, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wal-ter R. Abell and a sister of Mrs. Jo-seph Edwards of Philadelphia and of Walter R. Abell of Baltimore. Mr. Robinson is the eldest son of the late Mr and Mrs. John Moncure Robinson. ## SEES COMMERCIAL STRIFE AFTER WAR

Prof. Gilbert Murray Guest of the Pilgrims at Luncheon in His Honor.

Prof. Gilbert Murray, the eminent Greek scholar of Oxford, who is participating in Columbia University's summer sessions, told The Pilgrims yesterday he hopes the United States and England will stand side by side after the war to work for a permanent peace, though he admitted he did not know just how the end is to be accomplished. He made the forecast that there will be more or less commercial friction between the two nations because of the ties England has commercial friction between the two nations because of the ties England has made with her allies.
